Trump's Approval Remains Steady

by Victor Allis | Approval Polls | October 2, 2025 | 0

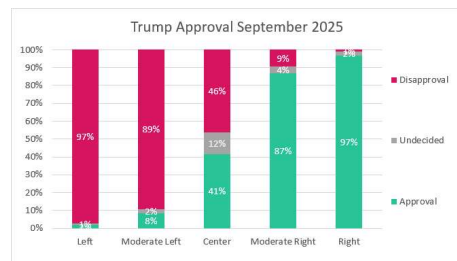

ActiVote's October 1, 2025 presidential approval poll finds that President Trump's approval rating remains steady at 43.5% virtually identical to last month's 43.7% approval rating, while his disapproval rating ticked up by 1.1%, from 50.4% to 51.5% yielding a slightly worsened net approval rating of -8.0%.

A total of 485 ActiVote users weighed in on Trump's approval between September 1 and September 30. They rated Trump on a 5-star rating, which is then converted into standard "approval" and "disapproval" percentages.

September's numbers are still better than Trump's average over the 48 months of his first presidency (41%), better than Biden's average approval rating for his full term (41%), and Biden's final year's approval rating (40%).
